

Linear Curve Examples

The “linear_curve” exercise requires you to draw a linear curve consisting of straight lines that combine to form a curve. The lines link points on the x and y axes as shown below. Note that higher x values link to lower y values and vice versa.

To complete the “challenge”, four such curves should be produced to form a circle as follows.

